

September 3

On September 3, 1940, color television was seen throughout homes in America for the first time thanks to CBS. If your family was seeing color for the first time, how do you think they may have reacted? What type of emotions were they feeling?